Margaret Lindsay from H. Lind-

Dr. John Kelly and Miss Ann were married Wednesday by J. I. Bates.

W. Spears and Tom Oliver, Cleburne, were before Commissioner Randolph last week on a arge of moonshining. Each was ced under a $300 bond.

Mr. T. R. Guthrie, after a stay two months in Decatur, is at e again.

Miss Lockett and party, of the ale Institute, have returned in Washington. They report a pleasant trip.

Bishop Jackson and bride have in the city since Tuesday.

The present session of the city public schools will close on next Friday.

Goldbugs here are as 'scarce as hens' teeth.' They appear to feel ill at ease. In the language of Col.
McNary, they occupy a position,
'apart, isolated, solitary and alone.'

Several of Cleburne county's most prominent citizens were here
this week in route to circuit court.

The Wilmer hotel is advertised for rent. The greatest draw back to the successful management of this property, has grown out of its being owned by a non-resident.

Those who will stoop to the inmenting of strife between town and country, are as mean as his satonic majesty could wish. They are the apple of his eye.

Mess. R. B. Kelly and A. F. Mc-Ghee, two of our most prominent attorneys, have formed a partnership for the practice of law.

Amistion will probably make an effort to further develop her public school system during the summer.

CHOCOLOCO.
There is more corn planted in this valley than for several years before. I might say also, that in spite of the rigid winter there has been more oats sown.

We think we are safe for a good crop of peaches and apples this summer and fall.

I am sure that the amount of commercial fertilizers used this year is three fifths less than last year. Farmers as a rule seem to be opposed to going in debt.

Rev. M. G. Milligan preached an able sermon on "Watch" at the academy on last Sabbath.

Mr. A. B. Scarbrough and Mrs.
S. X. Milligan went to see their mother, Mrs. N. P. Scarbrough, who recently had her leg broken by a fall.

Mrs. English had strawberries last Sabbath—the first of the season in these parts.

LADIGA.
Farm work in and around this place is progressing rapidly.

Gardens are looking fine. Mr.
William Stewart's takes the lead in this place.

A good many of our citizens are attending court this week.

Quite a number of Piedmontese came out last week to try their luck at fishing in our streams, if you want to know what success
they met with just ask T. Wingo and J. B. Palmer.

Miss Lizzie Craig and Miss Ella Brewster, two of Piedmont's most attractive girls, spent a day with your correspondent last week.

Mrs. J. R. Graham is at home again, after having visited relatives in Talladega, Anniston and Oxford.

Mr. Romie Smith and wife, and Mr. Lou O'Bryant and wife, of Randall, spent last Sunday with J. D.
Anderson and family.

Mr. Arthur Casey and wife, of Cherokee, were visiting William Stewart's family this week.

Dr. Darnell, of Centery, delivered one of his excellent sermons at Carmel Church last Sunday to a large congregation.

Mr. Love Stewart and wife were visitors over in Cherokee last week.

Master Johnie Graham after having a tussle with measles is up and now in Oxford on a visit to relatives.

A little four year old son of D.
C. Graham came very near being drowned last Sunday afternoon.
He, with his little sister and cousin, Nina Graham, were playing near the mill when the little fellow attempted to cross over the water house on a log. By a misstep he plunged into the water
where it is about eight feet deep,
when he was sinking for the second time his sister caught him by the hand and the two brave little girls lifted him out. We were in sight of it all, but not near enough to help, and must say that we have never seen more nerve or presence of mind used under any circumstances than these two little girls displayed in rescuing the little fellow.

Health of this neighborhood
good, not a known case of sickness.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

JENKINS.
We are having delightful weather
now, and our farmers are rapidly catching up with their work. Planting is about finished.

There are some seven or eight
new cases of measles since I wrote
you last. Most of them at the homes of Rev. L. L. Cross and R. P. Defrees.

Messrs Green, Jackson and Barker revenue officers, captured a still near here Monday night and poured out 1200 gallons of beer. They also captured an old man with three bags
of malt corn in his meal house.

Of course he protested his innocence, but the officers took him back with them. We wish our county could get rid of all illicit business.

We hear that the wedding at White Plains was a grand affair.

Mess. I. A. Watson and C. L.
Beason visited Rabbit Town friends
Saturday night.

R. Whitesides passed through the village last Monday on his way to Jacksonville.

We are glad to learn through the White Plains locals, that Dr. Williams is on his feet again.

CANE CREEK.
J. W. Carrol died last Thursday from apoplexy, after a sickness of about twenty four hours. Mr. Carrol was a brave Confederate soldier.

Noah has his dove safely caged
in the ark. Maybe after awhile
there will be an olive branch brought in.

The Duke of Morrisville, and deputy postmaster, dentist, squire and POO BAH generally, has been around summoning jurors for several days.

There was an old fashioned singing at Shady Glen last Sunday.

We had good singing, lots of good things to eat and a large attendance. The day passed off very pleasantly. One young man was not hungry but eat a turkey dish
full all the same.

And "he is with us" again.
Well we have a team now—the Hot Blast, Jim Savage and me.

The next thing we know "Our Dick" will be with us also. I think he is sick enough to be with us now if he could only acknowledge it. If "Our Dick" would only keep out of bad company!

TAMPA.
Health, weather and plenty of work, are three great blessings for which our community should be grateful.

This is the season for the annual gatherings at the different cemeteries to beautify the graves of relatives and friends, a beautiful custom which should always continue with us.

We are much pleased with the REPUBLICAN's remarks in Miss Dorich's article—"Village Improvement Societies"—and hope the Bachelor Girls club will act on the suggestion.

Rev. Hugh Johnson filled his usual appointment at Angels Grove
last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sanders, of Troy, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. H. Tullis.

Mr. & Mrs. A. J. Tarvin spent Sunday in Tampa.

Miss Ethel Pearce came over from Anniston Saturday, and spent two days with the home folks.

Mrs. A. J. Cowart, of Troy, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. H.
Tullis.

WHITE PLAINS.
Prof. G. H. Smith and Mr. J. C.
Watson are attending the Talladega
District Conference at Sylacauga.

Mess. A. J. Little and A. N. Ward
were in Jacksonville last Tuesday,
and on their return reported that the court house was still there.

We don't have as much silver talk here as Sam Slin reports in Oxford,
nor does the silver rattle in our pockets
worth speaking about, but the clouds
have a silver lining.

We will have a Sunday school convention here on the 12th, to which the editors of the REPUBLICAN are cordially invited.

We can tell the fellows who have been in bad company lately, by their having to go before the Grand jury
to tell about it.

Give J. C. Faghtender a call when you visit Piedmont to purchase general merchandise. He guarantees satisfaction.

Mr. John Ingram made Ohatchee
a business trip this week.

Mrs. Ott Smith leaves next Sunday for her home in Texas. Her many friends regret that her home
is so far away from Alabama.

There's some talk of Ohatchee
having a church and school house
in its center in the near future.

Farmers have planted this year for larger crops than ever. Even cotton is coming in for its share.

I learn that Mrs. M. D. McHenry is improving.

Mrs. Charlie P. Nunnally is right sick at her father's, Rev. B. B.
Nunnally's.

This part of the county is bragging
on the Jacksonville REPUBLICAN more than ever before. Mr. Editor, are they paying any better.

A. J. Tarvin's "rabbit farm" is more attractive than ever this week,
ten beautiful young ones at play all the while.

BERA.
Esquire E. J. Haynie says he did not know there was a legal advisor at Morrisville until he saw the notice in the REPUBLICAN.
Thanks to the Morrisville correspondent for the information.

There were several able and instructive sermons preached at Bera
last Sunday, by Revs. Fayette Jones, of Jackson county, Stephens, Egypt, Barksdale, of Dark Corner,
and J. P. Eden, of Anniston.

W. E. Canada, of Eastaboga, visited his father last Sunday.

Messrs John Pelham and George Eagle, of Anniston, were guests of Jas Harris Sunday.

John Eden, of Anniston visited Bera last Sunday.

Messrs Eugene and Charlie Haynie, of Delta, were guests of Esquire E. J. Haynie last Sunday.

We notice the absence of some of the boys of this community since
the grand jury convened.

Old John Williams, col. of law notoriety in this county, died a few days ago.

The good people over in Egypt
have asked the post office department to establish a new post office
at the residence of E. A. Womac, Esq., to be called Goodlett, in honor of our worthy tax collector, and when established, we hope you will get a large list of subscribers to the REPUBLICAN.

Mr. Beard has moved his saw mill to the land of J. A. Defrees, near the line of Egypt.

Mrs. H. W. Canada accidentally fell one day last week, and was badly hurt.

Our Sunday school at New Bethel has revived again, with R. P. Herman as Superintendent.

Don't forget the all-day singing
at Fenton on the fourth Sunday
in this month.

MERRELLTON.
J. L. Nunnally has been on the sick list but is improving.

J. H. Smith has been sick for some days with acute rheumatism.

Miss Mollie Murphy, of Iron City, is visiting her cousin in this vicinity.

A party of young people attended the all day singing at Mt. Olive church last Sunday. The singing was good, and the people very sociable.

Sheep killing dogs are troubling
the farmers of beat 8. John Roberson has lost twenty head in the last few days, and others have lost
quite a number.

Cotton that was planted early is coming up nicely.

DUKE.
We had a heavy rain here on last Friday and farmers were stopped from plowing.

Cotton is about all planted, and all the corn is in the ground except in the lower places. The farmers will have to hustle now or they will get in the grass.

Mr. Earnest, of Piedmont, was visiting Mr. Duke last week.

TREDEGAR.
The farmers are doing good work in their farms now, and are about through planting.

Mr. James Byars is out on his feet again.

C. P. Munier went over to Tampa on last Sunday.

The singing at Mt. Olive last Sunday was a complete success.

The Calhoun County Singing convention will meet in August, at Rabbit Town.

Let the court house stay where it is. The people want no change.
Success to the REPUBLICAN, and its editors.

WEAVERS.
The beautiful spring weather
which we have been enjoying for several weeks has given the farmers a good chance to work, and they are not slow to take advantage of it. They are putting things in good shape. Corn and cotton are both coming up, and next week
chopping will begin.

Wheat and oats are looking well
but I fear there are some indications of rust on the wheat.

There will be a good sorghum crop planted here, and there is none that pays better.

Sweet potato slips will be scarce
in this community. Some of our people, however, have them ready for setting out.

We will soon have plenty of strawberries.

The peach crop promises to be a good one, though some of the trees
shed nearly all their fruit.

From the number of fine colts in this neighborhood, it would appear that the farmers intended raising their own stock from now on.

Mrs. S. T. Pearce, of East Lake, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Isom.

Dr. Isom had a professional call to Anniston this week.

Rock are being piled near the
Dr. Glover farm, to await the rock crusher, which is now in the Anniston beat.

Rev. T. K. Trotter filled his appointment here last Sabbath, and preached a very able sermon to an appreciative audience.

We regret to learn that Rev.
Mr. Liston will move to Oxford but trust that he will continue to preach here.

PIEDMONT.
The brick work of the new engine house at the cotton mill is about completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson, of Columbiana, have been the guests of mine host Harris for a week.
Mr. Wilson is in bad health, and they have gone on to Wheeler's Springs, in Chocoma county, for the summer; that the change may be beneficial to him.

Miss Thomas, of Anniston, has been visiting Mrs. R. J. Morgan.

Mrs. Dr. Little has a cousin visiting her. Miss Wilson is a most attractive young lady.

Professor Mullins, of Georgia,
has been drumming up a singing
class, and the drumming has proved successful. He led a song service at the Baptist church on Sunday afternoon which was very enjoyable. His organist, Mr. McHenry, renders beautiful accompaniments.

Rev. J. E. Andrews preached to a crowded house on Monday night.

The majority of our male population has business at Jacksonville
this week, and the livery business is reaping a benefit.

Dr. Morgan, wife and little son visited relatives on Saturday. The Dr. returned to Noah on Monday, but Mrs. Morgan remains for a month.

The Kings Daughters will issue
the Piedmont Inquirer on the 18th of this month. They purpose to make it as readable as the talent of the Society will allow, and, as the object of the enterprise is to establish a town library, they hope for the co-operation of all good and book loving people. All Kings Daughters every where are asked to contribute to its columns.

Ullman Brothers, Anniston, Alabama, have the largest variety of fine French and American printed Organicles, Lavis and Crepons in the city. Every new novelty out this season, with lace of every variety at very low prices.

Early Sunday morning, Juno A.
Christian, one of Oxford's best citizens, breathed his last. He had only been sick for three days and his sudden death was quite a shock
to his family and the whole community. He leaves a wife and four children. George, the oldest, was in Auburn at school and only reached home after his father's death. The sympathy of the town is extended to the bereaved family
in their sore affliction.

A concert will be held in the college hall Tuesday night. Mrs.
Bernard Autrey is manager and the parts will be rendered by the local talent.

Messrs. S. G. Armstrong and Miller Armstrong have gone to Mobile as delegates to the State
Sunday School convention.

The several Sunday Schools of Oxford will hold a union picnic at Oxford Lake, Saturday, May 4th.

Mr. D. E. Hanyes will add two more rooms to his already commodious residence on College Hill.

Alex. Poor, who carries the mail twice a week from Oxford to Lane-ville, Clay county, decided he could make it more profitable to add another line to his business. So he found four good looking cows on the roadside and drove them along to Mr. Tom Smith's house where he disposed of them for $8.50. Mr.
Smith soon learned they were stolen
so he came to Oxford and succeeded in having Mr. Poor in the cala-boose. On preliminary trial he was bound over, but being unable to make bond languishes in jail.

ALEXANDRIA.
Miss Dora Crook will return today, Wednesday, from an extended visit in South Carolina.

Misses Lula and Fannie Porterfield, of Anniston, who have been the guests of their uncle, Mr. Sam Porterfield, have returned home.

Mrs. Henry Montgomery, of Jacksonville, is visiting relatives here.

The Baptist Sunday School of Alexandria is represented in the Mobile Convention by Prof. Glass and Miss Mary Martin. Mr. Liles represents the Methodists.

There is to be a marriage in our neighborhood today. The contracting parties are Miss Solie
Martin and Mr. James Huggins.

Rev. George D. Harris preached at the Grange Hall Saturday night and also filled his regular appointment at Mt. Zion Sunday.

Quite a large crowd came to Mt.
Zion Sunday to assist in putting the graveyard in order. People came from Jacksonville, Anniston, Oxford, Dakes and Weavers Station. Being one of the oldest graveyards in the country a great many have friends buried there.

There was a pleasant little party at K. S. Woodruff's Monday evening which was attended by several young men from Anniston.

The horses that were raffled here
Saturday, were won by a young man from Anniston, an employee of the L. & N. Shops. Mr. Walter Duke
was the lucky winner of the watch.

BRUNER.
Tuesday of last week the justice of peace of beat 11, Esquire J. W.
Carroll, was working in his shop
when he was stricken with paralysis
and died on Wednesday morning,
the day following his stroke. He was a good man, and useful citizen,
and will be greatly missed in this community.

A petition has been circulated asking the appointment of L. James Finley to the vacancy caused by the death of Esquire Carroll.

The farmers about through planting cotton and have commenced to plant
the bottom land in corn.

After preaching the funeral of J.
W. Carroll Thursday of last week,
Rev. Noah Stephens was married to Miss Ella Hanes, by Rev. W. D.
Vinson. It is a rather singular incident for a man to preach a funeral and get married the same day.

A constant increasing patronage
from our friends in Calhoun and nearby counties encourages us to ask those who visit Piedmont to favor us with a call.

Yours to please,
J. C. FAGHTENDER.

MAKES PURE BLOOD. These three words tell the whole story of the wonderful cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best blood purifier and spring medicine.

Hood's PILLS have won high praise for their prompt and efficient yet easy action.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Brewer Presiding

SOLICITOR WILSON LOOK-ING AFTER THE INTER-EST OF THE STATE.Resolutions Passed by the Bar
In Memoriam of Judge Box.

The Calhoun county circuit court convened last Monday morning.

Judge Brewer, the newly appointed Judge of this circuit, is presiding, and Solicitor Wilson is present looking after the interests of the State.

The grand jury was organized by swearing Hon. L. D. Miller as foreman, and Claudus Usery as door-keeper.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

G. C. ELLIS, Chm'n.
S. D. G. BROTHERS, Sec'taries.
A. P. AGEE,

These resolutions were presented to the court by G. C. Ellis Esq., who spoke with much feeling of his association with Judge Box,
and the high opinion which he always held of him. He moved that the resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the court. This motion received a second from J. T. Martin, Esq., who, in a speech full of pathos, paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the deceased Judge.

Judge Brewer said that it afforded him great pleasure to have the resolutions recorded, and requested
the clerk to devote a page to them.

On motion of S. D. G. Brothers, the court was adjourned for the day,
through respect for the memory of the lamented jurist.

Sunday School District Convention—White Plains, May 11-12.

The district Sunday School Committee, composed of Beas 11, 12, 13, and 17, met at Choccolocco
and decided to hold the convention
at White Plains on Saturday and Sunday, May 11 and 12. All Sabbath schools in the district are requested to send from three to five delegates each. The following program was decided on:—

Saturday, 9:30 a. m., Devotional Exercises. Welcome Address, Dr. G. C. Williams. Reply, S. G.
Armentrout. The Object of This District Meeting, by the president,
S. A. Russell, 15 minutes. The Sunday School as a Factor in the Conversion of the World, Rev.
R. T. Liston, 30 minutes. The Place That Sunday School Literature Should Occupy in the School, Dr. T. W. Ayers, 30 minutes. Responsibility of Parents in

Official Journal of Calhoun County.

W. AYERS & CROOK,
Editors and Publishers.

Entered at the post office at Jacksonville,
Ala., as second class matter.

SATURDAY MAY 4, 1895.

Established in 1837, is the OFFICIAL JOURNAL of Calhoun county, one of the largest and wealthiest counties in Alabama, and in which are located the towns of Jacksonville, Anniston, Oxford, Oxanua
and Piedmont.

CIRCULATION.

It has a larger guaranteed
county circulation in Calhoun than any other paper.

TO ADVERTISERS.

The subscribers of the Republican are the best people in the county, a class of people with whom it pays to advertise. Than it there is no better advertising medium in this section of Alabama.

THE REPUBLICAN.

ALL who can conveniently do so,
should contribute to the fund
to make a creditable Calhoun Exposition.

CALHOUN'S natural resources are superior to any other county in Alabama, and by all means she should send an exhibit to the Cotton States Exposition.

So far as we have been able to hear, the people of the county are pleased with the idea of using the rock crusher and macadamizing
all of Calhoun's public roads.

The Standard Oil Company's recent corner of the oil market, has paid, so far, about fifty million dollars in profits. Rockefeller can now endow another university.

From the large number of men
from the country in Jacksonville
this week attending court, the news comes from all the beats that the Democrats are almost unanimously
in favor of the free coinage of silver,
and Joe Johnston for Governor.

While the division is wide
among Democrats on the silver question, yet all differences among Democrats should be settled inside
the organization of the party.
There is nothing to be gained in looking elsewhere for relief.

Let the people remember that this "honest money" of which they now hear so much talk, is the devil which has depreciated the value of all their possessions and thus increased their indebtedness. It is the "honest dollar" which requires cotton two years ago worth
two hundred dollars to now pay one hundred dollars of the farmers indebtedness.

From current reports it seems that not all of Mr. Cleveland's federal office-holders will be used as a nucleus for perfecting an organization to fasten upon this country the gold standard. While it seems that he has been diligent in his effort to appoint to office only those who were opposed to the free coinage of silver, yet a few of the faithful got in who will hold to the principles and traditions of the Democratic party as handed down by the fathers.

The chief weapon of the Cuban insurrectionists is said to be the machete cane knife. They become very skillful in handling them
and have used them with such effect
on the Spanish soldiery that Spain
has declared the cane knife a weapon of war, and contraband, and is endeavoring to prevent any more being shipped from the United States.

A Cuban thinks it but a bungling
job if with a fair stroke he does not cleave the head of his foe to the collar bone.

If any federal office-holder wants to be made to feel that the Democratic hosts of this country do not propose to have their democracy gunged by Mr. Cleveland's 200,000 appointees, let him
come into Calhoun and attempt to make the gold standard, or bimetallism only by international agreement, a test of party fealty.

The good old style Democratic principles which existed for two hundred years is good enough for the people here. We had the free and unlimited coinage of silver for many years up to 1873, and there was no trouble about the parity, the people were prosperous and happy, and in Calhoun we are willing to go back to the good old ways of finance, and risk our destiny in the footsteps of our fathers.

The Advertiser.

Two weeks since the REPUBLICAN published an editorial in which it took the position that the Mon-gomery Advertiser had been very inconsistent on the money question,
and insisted that it was a very unsafe counselor, and a leader unworthy of followers. As a proof of this the REPUBLICAN cited certain paragraphs from utterances of the Advertiser back in 1891, in which the Advertiser most enthusiastically and uncompromisingly espoused
the cause of "restoring silver to circulation," and pronounced itself as standing "strongly committed to aid in this work." Along with such expressions of the Advertiser
the REPUBLICAN gave a more recent utterance, in which it had completely changed its base, and declared most emphatically that
"free coinage of silver will benefit
no one save the Colorado millionaires."

We thought such a change must have had a cause, and intimated that the people did not know what it could be. So last week the Advertiser refers to the editorial of the REPUBLICAN, and answers in a long editorial entitled, "why opposed to free coinage."

The Advertiser, in its answer to the REPUBLICAN would have us believe that its chief aim is to be a supporter of the democratic national platform, and says that the position of the democratic party on the question of coinage has ever been bimetalism, the coinage of gold and silver into money of equal intrinsic and exchangeable values.
It insists that there has never been a national convention whose action
"ever contemplated any thing else
than the maintenance, of the parity in value of the coins of the two metals."

Granting that this is true, we still fail to see why the Advertiser
is very much afraid of free coinage.
It very well knows, down to 1873,
the two metals were admitted to our mints on equal recognition and it knows as well that statistics of the United States Treasury affirm that the commercial value of silver and gold was kept at a parity—
about 15 to 1, to 1. The Advertiser also knows that when John Sherman had his bill passed demonstrating silver in 1873, that this parity was at once destroyed, and that the breach between the two metals grew wider and wider until it was about 23 or four to one.
Knowing this, and claiming to believe in bimetalism, and the maintenance of this parity, we cannot refrain from an expression of surprise at the seeming horror the Advertiser manifests at the very mention of free coinage.

The Advertiser makes a special point of the rejection, by the convention of 1892, of the amendment proposed by Mr. Patterson of Colorado, incorporating a proposition for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, as a special communication by said convention of its hostility to the idea. It goes further and says that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland and his subsequent election was a popular demonstration of the animosity of the whole party towards free coinage at 16 to 1.

We are indeed glad the Advertiser makes these statements, as it gives us another chance to show her utter inconsistency. Now if the Advertiser honestly believed all this, why did she remain silent during the memorable campaign of 1892, when the Democratic Campaign Committee issued a proclamation to the people of Alabama, in which it declared that the democratic platform favored free coinage and said: The record shows beyond dispute that the democratic party has been, and is now, the friend of silver and we WILL NEVER HAVE THE COINAGE OF SILVER THE SAME AS GOLD IN THIS COUNTRY, until the democratic party gets entire control of the government? Why we ask did the Advertiser sit still and allow this proclamation to get forth, without denying it? Why did her columns announce the appointments of democratic speakers throughout all the state, when she knew full well that their battle cry would be, "free silver, and a tariff reform! Can it be said of her that she closed her lips in an attempt to fool the people, or is it indeed the truth that up to that time she really favored free coinage and had not touched her lips to the federal tit? We pause for a reply.

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter. It is this: The Advertiser is now, and has been—since a date not long past—very much like old Polonius in the play of Hamlet. Her masters wish is a command. She can easily change her eye and tongue, to see
and describe, in the same cloud, the form of a camel, a weasel, or a whale.

August 17, 1895. The new theory that it is incumbent to pay debts only in gold had been expressly payable in either gold or silver is simply the skillful humbuggery of the same class of shysters who bought United States bonds in depreciated paper money and insisted on their redemption only in gold.

The single gold standard is a steadily appreciating standard and necessarily so because of the utterly inadequate quantity of gold and the ever increasing demand. The creditor takes no chance. His debt is sure to become more valuable with every year, and the debtor who contracts to pay in gold is playing against a one-sided game
in which he must inevitably lose.

The gold men who insist that for this country to pay out silver would be equal to repudiation present no argument to establish their case. It is a fact that France, which has the same monetary unit
of silver as this country, does pay in silver or in gold, or in both, just as is most convenient to her treasury.

Why is it that France, a very much smaller nation, can afford to pay in silver, while this great republic must accept dues in silver, but must pay in gold? We have looked in vain for some fair argument of this question from the gold standard side.

Last year Mayor Pingree, of the city of Detroit, Michigan, noting the number of men in the city who were out of employment and in need of food, hit upon a happy
plan for the relief of some of them.
All over the city there were vacant lots the soil of which was well suited to cultivation. The mayor had the owners of these lots to place them
in his hands for the use of the poor of the city. He collected subscriptions to purchase spades, rakes,
hoses and seed, and sending for the needle gave as many as possible a little garden. The scheme worked like a charm. Many a poor man and tired child had potatoes
and beans through the cold winter,
where but for Mayor Pingree only a crust of bread would have been theirs. This year a number of citizens have followed the example, and thousands of families in the great cities of our country will have their little farms, and many an one will get a taste of the true independence of agricultural life, as compared with life in a tenement,
that will carry them from the cities to the country.

Before the Age Herald got rich
and arranged to have its type set up with linotypes, it was with the people of Alabama and favored the free coinage of silver. The Birmingham State last week reproduced the following, which appeared in the Age Herald in 1892 when it was under the same manager as at present:
"Col. Herbert is more homesick in Washington than the 'Lone Fisherman' of historic renown.
Among all our congressmen he alone has gone back on the wishes of more than 90 per cent of his constituents. Colonel Herbert's course on the question of free silver is a source of mortification to his friends here in Alabama who have watched his course with respect for his abilities and admiration for his loyalty to his people.

When the silver bill first came up in the house he dodged it. He was present and failed to vote, and no man knew how he stood. Now that the bill is up for final passage,
he turns openly against it and presides over an anti-free silver caucus. Of the eight members and two senators who speak for the people of Alabama in congress, only
he misrepresents the people who sent him there. And it does not put him in any better light that he is not a candidate for re-election.
It is a good thing for him that he is not. He has been there one session too long, already."

Ivy Poisoning

Eight Years of Suffering

Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla
"Dear Sir:—We have tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it to be all you claim for it. My wife was poisoned by try when a young woman,
and for eight years was troubled every season with the breaking out and terrible itching and burning. I thought there was as bad a case as any I had ever seen. I bought Hood's Sarsaparilla

THE PEOPLE HAVE DECIDED, THEY SAY.

THAT ULLMAN BROS' OPENING DISPLAY settles the question and shows that they are Leaders, and not imitators. They offer no bait; neither do they apocryphal-homage. We can and will sell cheaper than anybody. We have what we advertise. The prices which we hand the public gives the public new ideas of low prices, dwarfing all attempts at cheap selling, and gives everybody a chance to get the goods they need at unapproachable bargain prices. The biggest bargains of the nineteenth century. Persistent endeavor along intelligent lines, searchless far and wide for novelties, popular prices, absolutely reliable qualities, has placed Ullman Brothers at the head of Anniston selling. See? Prices are indicators. Quality gives value. Good goods cost more than shoddy. We sell goods of

Ayer's Hair Vigor

CORDIALLY INDORSED.

RESTORES Natural Growth of the HAIR.

ALL OTHER Dressings FAIL.

"I can cordially indorse Ayer's Hair Vigor as one of the best preparations for the hair. When I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, all the front part of my hair, which had fallen out, began to grow, which still continues as in my youth. I tried several other dressings, but they all failed. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best."—J. C. PROCTOR, Converse, Texas.

MYSTERY OF THE GREAT RUBY.

By LUCIE ST. DEANE.

(Copyright, 1902, by American Press Association.)

Ever since I took hold of this business the fancy had been flickering in my brain that perhaps it was possible for this personal resemblance to me.

But the scheme was a quixotic one. I could not initiate his voice and manner closely enough to deceive her, and more than likely when the husband and wife talked they employed their own language instead of English. Besides in what possible way could I gain the chance to make the test?

Another question presented itself—were this strange couple in fear of an officer of their own country or of American officers?

These and a multitude of similar queries ran through my brain on the starlit night when I left my temporary home at Nathan Briggs' and strolled along the highway in the direction of the dwelling where the interesting couple spent a portion of their time.

The bluff which I had in mind was to go to the house during the day, representing to the old lady that I was a country officer who had called to assess the property, and it was necessary for me to examine the premises. It was a simple artifice, but I did not doubt I could make it work. Perhaps I would try it on the morrow.

Careful inquiry of my landlady gave the gratifying information that her brother was not the owner of a dog. That disagreeable factor was eliminated from the problem.

It seemed to me, therefore, that no harm but considerable good was likely to come from a little investigation during the favoring darkness. Perhaps something might be seen through some one of the windows or upper windows, which would throw light upon the mystery. If I failed, it would be nevertheless an interesting way of spending a few hours.

As I came to the entrance to the lane I passed to look and listen. Far in the distance I heard the faint sound of a locomotive whistle. Some one called to another, an odd caddy in the air bringing the voice so near that I instinctively glanced to my right to see the speaker, though I knew he was a mile away. The soft wind moved moonlessly through the poplars, and the lights from the houses here and there twinkled across the sleeping landscape.

Everything invited the easy I had in mind. There was no dog and plenty of shadow. No one could be aware of my purpose. Looking up the long avenue, all was gloom, with the faint twinkle of lights to the upper end. There was no sound of carriage wheels in either direction and—

When I turned my head and looked into the darkness toward my temporary home, I saw a figure in the doorway, a man, silent and motionless, as if he were in the middle of the highway, and as if a living person he must have observed me.

I gazed intently and suspected I was mistaken.

It may have been somewhat the same in this case. I had no expectation of seeing any person when the shadowy outlines appeared, and when I studied the situation all became blank darkness.

It was easy to solve the question. I might make a sudden rush and be upon the stranger before he was aware, but if he was an innocent person what on earth could I do for my country?

Instead of that, I began stealing slowly toward him. He could not see or hear me until I made sure whether he was a reality or fragment of the imagination.

I took possibly five steps in this guarded manner, when I thought suddenly. "I shouldn't feel nervous," I muttered. "For there's nothing in this business to compare with the risks I have run many a time."

Nevertheless I remained standing for several minutes, peering into the gloom and listening. No suspicious sound or light came. I could make out no such shadowy figure that had given me such a start. Common sense told me I was mistaken, but an odd feeling whispered that I had never more need of being so guard than at that moment.

Walking softly back to the entrance of the avenue, I again paused, with my senses on the alert. Once more the faint whistle of a passing engine heard a mile away, and all was quiet, but that from the trees surrounding the house at the end of the lane showed a dull light, the whole being so similar to that which greeted me the night before that I was half-believed I was not standing on the same ground that I had then stood on.

One of the worst failings of a man of my profession can have no impudence. It has brought many a well laid scheme to naught.

So profound was the stillness that I heard the door of the house open and close.

"Now, if some one comes out with a cigar and walks up and down the porch, the resemblance will be complete."

I had passed about half the distance from the house to the house when I received my second shock. There was no mistake this time. A man was in front of me, standing as motionless as I. The poplars at the sides of the avenue threw their long shadows into the darkness. I could not make out the figure until within a rod of it. There it was in the middle of the road like a statue carved out of the night itself.

A creepy feeling came over me, and I said my hand to my hip. My weapon was at instant command.

We must have seen each other at the same instant, so that the halt was simultaneous. He was as suspicious as I. But why this mutual distrust? We were in a civilized country and simply meeting in the lane of a country farmhouse. We ought to pass with a friendly greeting perhaps, but at least without carrying each other.

It will be understood that with my attention absorbed by the sight of the figure before me I forgot that shadowy form which I fancied had appeared in the other direction.

As I was about to start, and I took a step forward, meaning to make a bold front of it.

At that moment the faintest perceptible rustling behind caused me to turn my head. As I did so the figure of a man leaped out of the gloom and stood on his tiptoes to the ground. It was an Asiatic who had leaped upon me with the stealthy fury of a jungle tiger.

CHAPTER XIII.

I have been in more than one desperate encounter, but never was I caught more hopelessly than on that autumn night when the forgotten man leaped upon my back with the deadly stealth of a house of the jungle.

His momentum threw me forward on my face, and at the moment of falling he flung his shrewd means about my head and pinned them to my side, so that, although my right hand was on my revolver, I could neither draw it nor turn the muzzle toward him.

As was helpless as an infant in his grasp. As we were down he uttered several excited exclamations in a foreign tongue. I knew like a flash that he was a companion were Asiatic. The second man leaped forward and leaped over me while I struggled feebly to bring my weapon into play. He added his weight to that of the first, and I was unable to ward off the second, who was repeated again and again with increasing vigor.

The rising indignation at the end showed that he was a companion of the first, and I was a victim of a double attack. They had mistaken me for Darius Howard, and meant to make me answer them for the crime of the night, and knowing my life hanging on the slenderest of threads.

"I am an American. I am not Mr. Howard."

Without heeding his protest the man on my shoulder pressed his knife point into my back, and I was forced to cry out in pain. The second man was so close that, with the gloom, he must have noted my face.

FOR SILVER.

No Court House Removal.

THIS IS THE WAY CALHOUN COUNTY STANDS.

The Vote of the Grand Jury Voices the Sentiment of The People.

The large number of people who are in Jacksonville this week from all portions of Calhoun attending court are almost unanimously agreed on two things:

They are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

They are opposed to the removal of the court house from Jacksonville to Anniston.

The present grand jury is composed of the very best men in the county. They are truly representative men. They come from all portions of the county. No better exponent could be selected of the views of the people of Calhoun than this body of men. Last Thursday just before they adjourned for dinner, they took a vote on the removal of the court house, and on the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

The vote resulted as follows:

FOR COURT HOUSE REMOVAL, 1.

AGAINST COURT HOUSE REMOVAL, 15.

FOR FREE AND UNLIMITED COINAGE OF SILVER, 11.

AGAINST FREE COINAGE, 1.

At the time this vote was taken, there were two members of the jury absent, and on the silver question, instead of voting, Mr. K. S. Wood, said he would vote down as follows:

"Give us a full legal tender green back money, good for all debts both public and private, like we had before our money was cremated and bonds issued instead."

We have made it a point to inquire of the people here from the different portions of the county as to the court house removal question, and we have not found a man from the country beats who is in favor of removal.

We have also interviewed a number of gentlemen on the silver question, and they are almost as solidly in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver as they have ever been upon any question.

The following are only a few of the many expressions we have received:

Thos. Pelham—I have had occasion lately to visit all parts of Calhoun county and have found the people on the side of silver. They favor free coinage by at least three to one.

J. E. Brownings—Beat 12 is almost solid for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. I know of only three men in the beat who are doubtful on this question.

R. L. Steel of Piedmont was in favor of more money but could not say that he as yet favored the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. He thought his beat was divided on the subject, but that the white metal was gaining friends.

M. W. Woodruff—I find very few in Beat 2 who favor the ideas of Mr. Cleveland in the coinage matter. Nearly all want the free and unlimited coinage 16 to 1.

J. J. Willett—I think the democrats in my beat who favor free coinage will out number those of the Cleveland faith two to one. I believe that by 1896, the gold bugs will not have a corporal's guard. The people will not follow Mr. Cleveland into the trap he has laid for them.

R. M. Wilkins—Beat 2 is for silver. Everybody that I have talked with wants the free and unlimited coinage. Yes, Sir. We are all one way in my neck of the woods.

B. G. McClellan—Well, now, I have been, as you know, through the whole of Calhoun, and my observation is that 80 per cent of the voters of this county favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

J. W. Riddle—Yes, all our people in Choctawhatchee valley are free silver folks. We want more money. We believe there is not near enough gold to do our business, and we need all the silver that can be brought to our mills.

Esquire E. M. Reid—I am uncompromisingly in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. If there is a Democrat in beat 5 who is not in favor of free silver I don't know him.

I expect to be a candidate for the legislature next year on a free silver platform.

Mitch Moore—The people of Calhoun are not only in favor of free coinage of silver, but will not support any man for a political office who is not in favor of it. The Democrats of Beat 5, are solid for free silver at 16 to 1.

N. W. Whitesides—Three-fourths of the Democrats in Oxford beat are for the free and unlimited coinage of silver. There are very few who sustain the views of Mr. Cleveland. Coins Financial School has done much good with us.

MINN.

The health of this community is good.

We have had several heavy rains which have done some damage in washing our land. Our farmers, however, are getting along very well with their work.

Wheat and oats are looking well and our fruit crop is very promising.

Our literary society is progressing finely. At the last meeting had the pleasure of entertaining Mr. A. M. Landers and daughters, Misses Willie and Sadie, also the Misses Cross.

The singing at Mr. Olive's was well attended, and all present seemed to enjoy themselves.

DE ARMANVILLE.

Mr. D. A. Long, who was mentioned as having an attack of rheumatism of the heart two weeks ago, died suddenly at his residence two miles west of here last Tuesday.

The deceased leaves a widow and nine children to mourn their loss.

Mr. Long was too well known in this county to need any newspaper eulogy. He had passed his three score and ten years. His was a life of devotion and sacrifices for the cause of the blessed Master. He was especially devoted to Sunday school work. Of him it can be truthfully said—Blessed are they who die in the Lord, for henceforth, they may rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

He told the writer several days since that he felt that his end was drawing near, that death had for him no horrors, but the way was clear and bright.

The Baptist Supper.

The supper given on Tuesday evening by the Ladies Working Union of the Baptist church, proved a great success. The net receipts amounted to ninety dollars.

The ladies very sincerely appreciate the interest shown by their friends, and desire to tender their thanks to them for their presence.

Good quality ladies under vests for 5c. Better for 8, 10, 12, 15 and 20c. Best 25 and 35c at Ullman Bros.

Alfred and Alf.

Among the illustrious names that are graven on the pages of English History, there is not one that shines with a brighter lustre, than that of Alfred the Great.

the man who came to the aid of his people in times of sore distress, and saved them from the yoke of their oppressors. Since the days of the great

ALFRED,

there has been a kind of magic in the name. In these later days it is sometimes called for short, but the magic remains the same.

Now I'll show you that there is something in a name, and a great deal in the name ALFRED or ALF. Alfred the Great and

ALF TRUITT

—a veritable pair "to draw to." Both friends of the people. If Alfred the Great had lived in the time of Alf Truitt, he would have been in the

Hardware Business

just as Truitt is, and would have been as earnest an advocate of the use of improved machinery. Alfred would have done just as Alf did when he bought these

Five Car Loads

of late model harrows a few weeks ago, and he would have been perfectly willing to have let the people have them at a low price, and would have accepted payment in corn in the Fall of the year. That is just what ALF is doing. Selling these harrows, the implement for preparing the soil, this great on time, and waiting for it to pay for itself in the increased production.

Alf also believes in a judicious use of fertilizer, and has three car loads on hand which he will sell cheap.

Alf believes in the old adage, "like produces like," and therefore desires to sell every farmer in the county a few of Geo. T. Truitt's premium prolific cotton seed.

Who else does business on such a liberal plan? Nobody but

and if you fail to go to see him when you go to Anniston, you might as well not go.

It has always been the object of the proprietors

PALACE SHOE STORE

To keep the most carefully selected stock, not only in Anniston, but in Alabama. This Spring they have gone into the great shoe markets of the world, determined to "out do," if possible, their former record. What success they have met with is for the public to say. A glance at their handsome store room is a most refreshing treat. With long lines of shelves, reaching to the ceiling, on which are tastily arranged a most perfect line of

MENS' LADIES' AND CHILDRENS' SHOES.

they can easily fit the fancy of any buyer who may visit them. They have Oxfords, in black and tan, Sandals.

Mens' and Childrens' tan shoes, the very sight of which are restful to the tired feet in these hot Spring noondays.

Captured A Still.

For some time Messrs Pelham and Crook have been hearing that the overjoyful was being made near Jenkins in this county, but could never locate the still until last Monday night.

In some way they received information as to where the mountain dew was being boiled up, and Monday night located a fifty gallon still on Shoal Creek within three miles of Jenkins.

With the still they found 1200 gallons of beer ready to make a run, and no doubt the owner thinks it an outrage and shame that property so valuable as this beer should have been destroyed.

There was no one at the still, but the officials had information that Wilks Henderson was the gentleman who had been making and dealing out the good old genuine homemade article, and on searching his house found three bushels of malt. He was arrested and carried to Anniston last Tuesday.

He is a man probably 65 years old, and has experience as a defendant in the United States court.

We had the pleasure this week of meeting Mrs. W. J. Alexander, of Piedmont. She informs us that the ladies of Piedmont will issue a special edition of the Inquirer on the 18th inst. Mrs. Alexander has decided newspaper talent, and we have no doubt but she will be the managing editor of the Ladies' edition of the Inquirer. We think Mrs. Alexander has made a great mistake in not going regularly into journalism before now.

C. A. Gammon and Company have a half column advertisement on the last page of the Republican this week. This firm is one of the most progressive in this section of the state. They have studied the likes and dislikes of the people of Calhoun and are prepared to suit all who call on them.

Alf Truitt is with us again this week and we call especial attention to his advertisement on page 4. It is hardly necessary for us to tell you anything about Truitt. He makes it his business to keep what you want, and he has a way of putting his prices so that you can buy and live.

MR. STRAYED.—From my stable on Sunday last, a black mare, mule, medium size, about 1 year old. Reward to those taking her up for me.

HENRY MARTIN,
Alexandria, Ala.

Ullman Brothers will take pleasure in sending samples to any lady on application. Special bargain day every Tuesday.

COUNTY NEWS.

From All Over Calhoun

Minor Happenings of the Week

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

An Aniston Jeweler in the Soup—New Populist Paper in Aniston—A World of News from Piedmont—Sad Death at D'Armanville.

Captain Savage Talking Again, this Time to Cane Creek—News from All Over Calhoun.

PIEDMONT.

Two more new houses are going up near the Baptist church, one is the property of Mr. J. L. Chitwood, the other, of M. G. Greenwood.

Miss Lillie Yeatman, of Oxford, was visiting relatives here the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Perry are at home again after a three weeks visit to Philadelphia.

The singing school is getting along nicely. Professor Mullins is evidently a fine teacher of vocal music.

Mrs. John M. Yeatman, and children, have been visiting relatives here for the past week. Mr. Yeatman came up on Saturday.

Miss Lizzie Craig, who has been staying with her aunt, Mrs. Ferguson, and attending school at the Seminary, has returned to her home at Cullman.

Ralph Bingham, the "Boy orator," gave a most pleasing entertainment at the High School building on the night of the 1st. As an impersonator of character he is not to be excelled, and his recitations were of the very best. His performance on the violin was too fine to be enjoyed except by persons of the highest musical culture.

Mrs. Dr. Miller, of Gaylesville, who has been doing some lovely paintings under Mrs. Little's instruction, returned to her home last week.

I suppose our lawyers all got rich at court last week, some of them have gone back to increase their pile, others, having got enough, staid at home.

Rev. J. Watson Bradford preached a splendid sermon at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. The inclement weather at night prevented services.

Mr. Mellichamp delivered an excellent discourse at the Episcopal church.

The Epworth League is to have a edico social on Thursday night at Mr. Warrings. The Christian Endeavor is getting up a poverty party and it strikes your correspondent that it will be a success.

Oh! my! the bad dreams—and the nightmares—and the day despairs, that some of us are having over that Special Paper. Every body who will, send in an order to Miss Helen Yeatman. Money to be remitted when papers are received. Five cents apiece—try some.

Some of our young men were fined on Monday morning for some little fisticuffs; others found that they had to respond with their pocket books for the pleasure of swinging on trains.

Mrs. Lucy Gardner, of Briarfield, attended services at the M. E. church Sunday, she is visiting her father, J. J. Wilson, of Randall.

Quite a large party went up last Saturday to attend the decoration services at Pleasant Gap.

The ladies are meeting with every encouragement in regard to the special edition of the Inquirer. Nearly every merchant will advertise, and there will be some illustrations. Pictures of our leading men and public buildings.

You buy Clothing, Shoes and Hats. Do you always find the kind you want? J. C. Faghtender, at Piedmont, keeps the kind that the people like.

MORRISVILLE.

A severe storm of wind, rain and hail passed over this section of country last Thursday evening. The wind did not do any damage about Morrisville, but near New Bethel church it blew down a great many trees and some fences.

Cane Creek was higher, last Friday, than it has been since 1886. It damaged some bottom land, and washed down Dr. Brothers mill at Polkville, and carried away a considerable lot of fencing.

Mr. Robert Tankersley is very happy again, it is a girl this time.

Rev. J. L. Jones, of Jackson county, Ala., is visiting his kindred and many friends in this section. He is an able Baptist minister, and has preached several sermons since he came among us. He returned home on Thursday.

Our Sunday schools at this place are doing well. A goodly number attend each school, and seem to take great interest in Sunday school work.

Mr. James Simpson, an old gentleman, died last Thursday, and was buried Saturday, in Cane Creek church cemetery.

The health of our neighborhood is very good. At this time, there is but one case of sickness in this locality, Mrs. M. A. Howard, an old lady, has been confined to her bed some time, but hopes are entertained that she will soon be up again.

CHOCOLOCCO.

On the night of the 5th, we had the hardest rain for years. It was accompanied by hail. Considerable damage was done to crops.

We have a good stand of cotton. Harmony and Chocologoco Sabbath schools are going to have a sabbath school picnic, near Downing and Morris mill, on Saturday before the third Sabbath in this month.

Rev. Mr. Hayerer preached an excellent sermon at the Academy last Sabbath.

Rev. Mr. Milligan is talking of attending the reunion of Confederate Veterans at Houston, Texas. A friend agrees to send him a ticket.

The Chocologoco Sabbath school is going to have a rally next Sabbath evening, and will have speakers from Judge Carthel, Mess. S. A. Russell and S. G. Armentrout, and Dr. Scott.

MINK.

Mr. J. D. Hollingsworth, of Hokes Bluff, was the guest of his son C. A. J. Hollingsworth, last Sunday.

Quite a number of our people attended the grave-yard working at Union last Saturday.

We are having some heavy rains, which are damaging both land and crops.

This is a great year for bees. H. T. Dozier has had four swarms from one stand.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Moore daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins also have a little daughter at their home.

The people who were in town last Saturday greatly enjoyed the sample copies of the REPUBLICAN that were distributed. Every body likes to read the paper. Success to its editors.

BERA.

The health of this community is good.

We had the severest hail storm on the 2nd, inst., that we have had for years. It did considerable damage to gardens, cotton and corn.

J. E. Canada is complaining his teeth again. Guess he will have to quit on Esq. E. M. Reid.

Esq. Haynie will have to plant his cotton over.

Prof. Stovall visited his father, near Francis, last Saturday.

E. M. Reid was over at Bera last week.

R. P. Henton, of East Egypt, was the guests of J. E. Canada last Sunday.

H. J. Canada visited Gov. Sparks last Sunday.

The memorial services at Madison's grave yard were conducted by Rev. A. F. Allen, of DeArmanville.

Several of our people attended

Prof. Stovall's singing, at Francis, last Sunday.

J. L. Scott and wife visited W. D. New, at Macon, on Sunday.

BRUNER.

Heavy rains, wind and hail!

Mr. P. E. Stewart and wife, Mr. L. L. Abrams and wife, and Mr. R. D. Griffin were visitors to Bruner last Sunday.

A number of good people of the community have contributed to the aid of the family of Mrs. M. M. Poe. She has two sons who are confined to the house with rheumatism. They are not able to help her. If any of the readers of the REPUBLICAN desire to help her, they can send the amount they desire to give in postage stamps, to her address Bruner, Ala. Stamps will be cashed for her. She is worthy of your charities.

ALEXANDRIA.

Mrs. Woodruff, of Gadsden, is visiting her sons at this place.

Rev. and Mrs. John Wilkins, of Munford, have been spending the past week with Mrs. Wilkins' mother, who is very ill.

Mrs. Carrie Draper, of Oxford, has been the guest of her brother, Mr. Ed. Clark the past few days.

Prof. Dodson has been here this week looking after his farm.

Mrs. Cooper is visiting among friends on Cane Creek.

The ladies of the Baptist Sunday School expect to have a Strawberry festival some time very soon.

Mr. Longshore, of Shelby Co., paid Alexandria a short visit this week.

Mr. James Powers, of Attalla, is visiting his mother.

Mr. John Wood made a short visit to Attalla last week.

The recent rains, while not so heavy as at many other places, have done considerable damage to the growing crops.

Dr. J. E. Crook has purchased the beautiful brown horses that were owned by Mr. Darden of Aniston.

DE ARMANVILLE.

Died, last night, after an illness of about a week, Lee, second daughter of Mrs. Nancy Brock. She was fishing on the creek and fell in the water, from which she contracted a severe cold, and from this pneumonia. It was a sudden taking away of a young girl just budding into womanhood. The family are poor, and deserving, which renders the blow double severe on them. Yet they are not without kind neighbors to sympathize with, and help them.

The cry is, still it rains, and the grass is starting up much to the discouragement of farmers.

Strawberries and English peas are coming in now, as an agreeable change to our previous hard time and late spring menu.

Mr. L. L. Allen's family will return from Florida next week.

There is not any need here for "school for scandal" many people here are graduates on this line.

The flood of last week did much damage to plowed lands of this section.

WEAVERS.

The very heavy rains last week did great damage to fences and low lands, especially along Cane Creek.

The stand of cotton is generally good, though this continued wet weather is going to make it quite difficult to clean.

A good many of our farmers around here had profitable employment in hauling rock for the crusher, which is now located near the Dr. Glover farm.

Mr. R. S. Hughes is on a protracted visit to relatives in South Carolina.

Dr. Isom is visiting his relatives in Tallapoosa county. He will return about the 12th, inst.

Miss Maggie Weaver has returned from Gadsden where she has been employed in the school at that place.

Mrs. J. R. McElreath is recovering slowly, being now able to go about the house on crutches.

Bro. Horton attended the District Conference last week and we had no preaching here last Sabbath.

FERGUSONVILLE.

Cane Creek could this year be called corn creek, from the number of broad acres of corn planted.

James Simpson is very sick at his brothers, A. H. Simpson.

J. P. Wakefield has a sick child this week.

D. McEachen is attending court in Jacksonville as a juror.

Clements and Donahoo are running their saw mill on full time.

Rev. Mr. Horton preached at the school house last Sunday night.

Prof. Persons is getting along nicely with his school.

J. A. Ferguson has quit selling sewing machines and has gone to raising cotton.

J. B. Ferguson has been on the sick list, but is convalescing.

Near Alexandria last Wednesday night, Mr. James Higgins was married to Miss Sallie Martin, Rev. W. O. Morton officiating.

What has become of the committee appointed to secure a Calhoun county exhibit for the Cotton States Exposition.

ANNISTON.

The Birmingham News of last week compliments: one of our most popular young ladies as follows:

"Miss Lella Dohbins, of Anniston, who was the guest of Mrs. E. A. Smith, 2525 Fifth avenue, during the Baptist Young People's convention, has promised to return the latter part of this month and enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Smith again. Miss Dohbins is a charming brunette with gracious manners and altogether a delightful and entertaining little woman."

The Oxford Enterprise in describing the concert at College Hall, had the following to say of Anniston's song bird.

"The singing of Miss Knight was highly appreciated. She possesses a rich, full, sweet, highly cultivated voice, which with her charming personality completely captured the audience."

Governor Oates has appointed Dr. S. C. Clifton to a place on the board of trustees of the Bailey Springs university. A better appointment could not have been made.

Mrs. Charles Cooke has gone on a visit to her son, Mr. Charles B. Cooke, of St. Louis, Mo. Miss Josephine Iozzoni, a pupil at Noble Institute, accompanied Mrs. Cooke.

The revenue officers are making a great many arrests now-a-days, and commissioner Randolph is kept busy.

J. C. Crook, a tenth street jeweler has been arrested on the charge of making the dies for the Washertown counterfeiters who were apprehended a few days ago.

It is reported that Anniston will have a Populist paper at an early date. The Populists are evidently preparing to make a great effort to carry Calhoun in the elections next year. With two opposing parties in our county, the Democratic party will have to unite and hustle.

Notwithstanding the administration's command to its 200,000 appointees to enter the ranks of gold monometallism we are still overwhelmingly Democratic in this neck of the woods. We favor "homestead money"—the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the old ratio of 16 to 1.

It is predicted here that Governor Oates will come out in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at 16 to 1 before November, 1896, or withdraw from the contest for a seat in the U. S. Senate. He has already, by his vote in congress, put himself on record as favoring free coinage at 20 to 1.

The public schools will close Friday for the summer vacation, or until September.

North Noble street will be made straight at once.

Gardens are doing well, and the fruit and blackberry crops promise to be good.

The heavy rains of a few days ago delayed work on the new electric line, but Mr. Sexton hopes to have the cars running by the last of the week.

Success to the REPUBLICAN.

Ramon's Nerve and Bone Pain Rheumatism, Cuts, Sores, Burns and Bruises, for 25c.

MACK.

Another shower prevents the farmers from plowing. They have a fine stand of cotton, and grass killing is right at hand. They are done planting corn, except a few late patches.

Rev. Gillum Boozer filled his appointment at Mount Gilead last Sunday and preached quite an able sermon.

Our Sunday School is flourishing.

The grave yard working at Mr. Gilead will be next, first Saturday.

There is to be an all day singing at the Chapel next Sunday.

Quite a number of our people attended the grave yard working at Union last Saturday.

The fruit crop is fine.

Miss Jane Lee is very sick.

LADIGA.

A beautiful shower of rain fell yesterday, but not enough to stop the progress of farm work.

Most of the farmers in and around this place are finishing corn planting today.

Cotton is up with good stands, and ready for work.

Quite a number of Ladigans attended the decoration of graves at Pleasant Gap, last Saturday. A large crowd was there, and brought a great many beautiful flowers. We had three interesting speeches and some good singing.

Our little place has been aglow with pretty girls for the last week. Misses Dossie and Lillie Savage, two of Anniston's loveliest girls, and Misses Fannie Palmer and Maggie Brewster, two of Piedmont's fairest flowers, have been visiting relatives here.

Mrs. J. R. Graham is in Piedmont this week, visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Palmer.

Miss Kittie and Mattie Graham, of Spring Garden, were here to see relatives last week.

Mrs. Geo. Stewart and Mrs. Will Smith, of Wilson's Ridge, were guests of friends and relatives here one day recently.

Dr. Glover and S. Harmon, of Merrellton, are here on a fishing trip. They caught about ten pounds Monday evening.

F. M. Savage's daughter, Fannie, was bitten by a small snake on the finger Monday. It made her quite sick for a little while, but she is said to be all right now, except that her hand is a little sore.

Those who are interested will clean off and decorate the graves at Carmel church next Saturday the 11th, inst.

MERRELLTON.

The facts are about through planting, cotton is up very well since the recent rains.

Every thing is growing.

Last Saturday—May, 4—was declaration day at Dowdell grave yard. A large crowd gathered, and the graves were soon shaped, the yard swept, and the flowers placed on the graves. After this we had a beautiful address by Rev. J. P. West.

This service, in memory of the dead is a beautiful one, and should be continued for all time to come.

Rev. D. C. Robinson filled his regular appointment at New Hopeville, the first Sabbath and Saturday before. It was the regular day for communion services and foot washing and a very good congregation was out.

Rufus Foster is very much improved, but is still far from being well. He fell from a tree, a distance of twenty-five feet. He was considerably shaken up but no bones were broken.

Some of our people are luxuriating on strawberries. There is a beautiful crop of this delicious fruit.

There will be a singing at Piedmont Springs church next Sunday, beginning at 9 o'clock. It will be continued in the afternoon at Ferdie Sabors.

SCIENCE'S SPRINGS.

Rev. William Griffin preached the funeral of Mrs. Betsy Wilkins, at Post Oak church, last Sunday.

The following Jacksonvillians were visitors at the Springs last Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Crook;

Dr. and Mrs. Linder, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Denman, John Rowland, Ed. Caldwell and W. H. Clark.

A very large crowd attended the grave yard working at Union last Saturday. Rev. J. F. Wilkins preached them a very interesting sermon.

The farmers are getting frightened at the prospect of having too much grass in their crops.

The health of this community was never better.

CANE CREEK.

While we were at court last week we had a pleasant interview with Capt. Savage. He is with us. He not only wants it to stay where it is but wants it to remain the court house of Calhoun county.

A prominent citizen of Piedmont expressed the opinion that the sentiment in his section was in favor of leaving the court house alone.

We had a fearful flood on Cane Creek last Friday. Dr. Brothers mill at Polkville was washed away, and much bottom land was injured.

Come Enoch! Dont go back on your legal advisor. Follow the advice of the Chief Justice.

Farmers are busy, and we have the best stands of corn and cotton that we have had in years.

The beans are blooming, hawks have quit coming, chickens are ripe, and we are going a fishing.

JENKINS.

We mortals are never satisfied with the weather or rarely so.

It rains and hails now and the grass and weeds are getting a good hold, but while they grow so do our vegetables, corn and cotton. We will have to work the harder to kill grass.

No news cases of measles, and all who have had them are getting along well.

Your worthy townsman, F. A. Weems, was over to sell Mr. Mosley goods this week.

P. M. Watson of Weavers was here last Saturday. Some of the ladies are preparing to take dinner to White Plains to the Sunday school convention Saturday the 11th. We hope to see your town well represented there.

Dairy Association and Alabama Jersey Cattle Club.

A Montgomery special says: The Alabama Dairyman and Live Stock association organized here with a membership of nearly 100. Isaac Ross of Opelika, was elected president; vice president, James Crook, of Jacksonville; secretary, J. F. Bates, of Hamburg; treasurer, M. C. Scott, of Montgomery. The association is composed of some of the strongest men in Alabama. Its purpose is to generally foster the dairy and stock raising interests of the State. It will begin at once a vigorous war on the oleomargarine dealers, who are selling this product in open defiance of a statute regulating its sale, as enacted by the last general assembly. President Ross said tonight that the association intended to stamp out the sale of bogus butter in Alabama, or have it sold in compliance with the law which is in effect, that no coloring should be used in the oleomargarine which would give it the color of butter. Local dealers in oleomargarine are very much exercised over the stand of the dairy men, as they have paid no attention to the law. The penalty for violation is $50 for each sale of oleomargarine.

After adjournment the Alabama Jersey Cattle Club was organized here with the following officers: W. E. Matthews, of Huntsville, president; James Crook, of Jacksonville, vice president; H. W. Padgett, of Mobile, secretary; W. C. Thomas, of Gold Hill, treasurer. The object of the association is to promote the raising of thoroughbred Jersey cattle in Alabama.

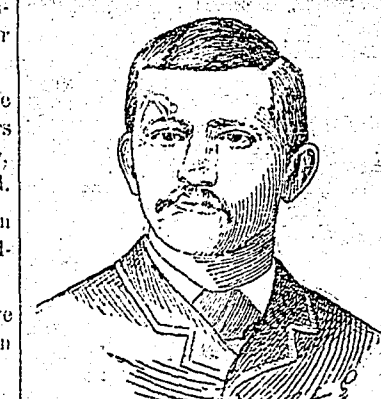

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exerting a wonderful influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have Loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholy or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and strength are guaranteed by its use. Large bottles only fifty cents at W. B. Abney's drug store.

That fact that people drink less whiskey than several years ago is very noticeable at all public gatherings.

The Bruner School.

W. J. Young, was born April, 27, 1856, in Talladega county. When a boy he moved, with his parents to the town of Oxford, in Calhoun county, where he lived until he reached the age of manhood. After reaching his twenty first year, he educated himself at Oxford college, under Prof. Dodson. He began teaching July, 4, 1881 in Beat 4, near Pulaton, and since then has taught eight years at that place. Three years he taught a successful school near Alexandria. Prof. Young has just closed a session at Bruner, and returned to his home at Eufaula, intending to return to Bruner and teach a Fall term. His old patrons at Pulaton, have robbed him of his anticipated rest, and compelled him to open a Summer school at that place.

Prof. W. J. Young.

As an evidence of the esteem in which his pupils hold him, we quote from resolutions adopted by them, in which they say: "We have gone to him several sessions and can truthfully say, that our school days under Prof. Young were the most pleasant and the most beneficial of our lives. We trust that our parents will continue to engage his services."

Prof. Young is a self made man. He takes a great delight in teaching and is well qualified for the work.

At the closing of his school at Bruner, the following resolutions were adopted:

Prof. W. J. Young, on the 5th, inst., closed the first term of our school with a very interesting and satisfactory examination.

Although the Patrons were behind with their farmwork and the day was fine they stopped their plows and came out with their families, and their baskets well filled with all the good things looked for on such an occasion.

None seemed to consider their time lost but all seemed to enjoy the day, and many expressions of pleasure and surprise were heard during the day. The parents were pleased with the rapid progress the children had made during the session.

We can boast of our school, and we do not say too much when we say that ours is the best school in the county. It is not we have got the location and the children and as good a teacher as there is in the county. The school is located at Bruner, near the county line, and is supported by a number of good patrons on the Talladega side. We have a good, healthy location, good society, churches and sabbath schools convenient.

We have registered the names of about 85 or 90 pupils and the daily average has been about 47. We have had three young men board in our school—Mr. T. B. Martin Jr. came back from Texas on a visit to see his parents and relatives, and found the educational facilities so much better than when he left here that he sold his ticket and remained to attend the school. Mr. John Dillard, from Sulphur Springs on East and West R. R. has been in the school, and Mr. William Franklin of Talladega Co., below Lincoln, has been boarding and going to our school. We want to say—we will make it to the interest of any young man or lady who desires to take the advantage of a cheap rate of board and tuition, to come and make their arrangements for the next session, which will begin the first Monday in July.

We believe the gifts and callings are of God, and that Prof. Young is filling his place when in the school room; he has a natural tact for his occupation; he says he enjoys it and we believe he does, he uses such untiring energy and is so faithful in looking after, not only the mental, but the physical and moral interest of all his pupils. Mr. Young is a high-toned Christian gentleman, well qualified for profession. It has been often said that a man who follows school teaching can not please every one—but some of the patrons of our school have sent their children to him at other places and we have had expressions from the people in the different communities where he has been engaged, and we can truthfully say we have never heard a word of complaint or dissatisfaction. He has always been successful and every body is highly pleased with him.

State vs. Pomp Vernon, carrying concealed weapon, not guilty.

State vs. Addie Coker, assault, guilty.

State vs. Lee Brown, abusive language, guilty.

WE HAVEN'T LEFT A STONE UNTURNED

We have ploughed the entire producing field. We have trowed deep and wide. We have done everything within the bounds of possibility to lift still higher the famous excellence already famous. We have had experience for a teacher. We have had the preference you have always shown for us stimulating to greater achievements. We have this one end and aim in view to better the store, better the values, increase the variety and lower the prices; in short, offer more, ask less. As evidence, look at our SPRING SUITS. They are unbettable. They tell of their greater goodness at a glance.

$6.50 TO $15.00.

Look at the Little Boys' and Big Boys' Suits, $1.25 to $7.50.

Look at the Furnishings, from one end to the other, Rich Values, Popular Prices. We don't know the meaning of the word trouble. No effort is too great. The harder you are to fit, and to suit, the harder we strive to fill your satisfaction to its fullest. Giving your money back is only rectifying the error. We do what is better, guard against its occurrence. Perfection is not a chance shot here. You will hit the bull's eye every time. Fire away.

The prize drawing of the Constitution came off on the first of this month. The number on the legal tender note was 7-0-8-0-1-3-4-5.

The guess that won the first prize was 70,801,354. This was divided between two gentlemen, G. W. Stancil, Tutor, Ga., and W. O. Herndon, Hamblon, Ga. Second best guess was won by 70,801,435. Five persons guessed this number. Two guessed the third best number which was 70,801,435.

The Constitution will enlarge the Weekly and announce another prize soon. Get ready and send us your names. REPUBLICAN and Constitution $1.25.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the school people had the engine and cars here early Wednesday morning, and by eight o'clock about one hundred happy children were embarked and on the way to the picnic grounds at Sulphur Springs. Barring a little shower, which fell during the middle of the day, every thing passed off very pleasantly, and when evening came, and the cars came rolling back to the Jacksonville depot, it was the verdict of all, that the picnic had been a great success.

On Monday, Dr. Ayers received a telegram from Franklin, Ga., stating that his brother was dangerously ill at his home in that place.

The doctor left on the afternoon train. A message on yesterday stated that his brother was alive but there was little hope of his recovery.

The New York legislature, by a vote of 91 to 13, recently condemned the policy of the present administration in the British complications with Nicaragua. Among those 13 who voted against the resolutions there was only one democrat. The democratic party since the days of Mr. Monroe has always been the great supporter of the doctrine which bears his name, and the legislature of New York but voices the sentiments of millions of our citizens when it condemns a policy that will in any measure submit to British encroachments on American soil.

Program will comprise vocal solos, Duets, Quartets, Topical songs instrumental music and recitations. Our best talent will assist in making the event a rare treat for our musical friends.

The entertainment will be under the auspices of the members of the Presbyterian Church Choir—and the "musical" will be supplemented by a strawberry Festival when berries and cream, cake etc., will be served by the young ladies at popular prices.

Admission to concert 25 cents. Half tickets 15 cts. Refreshments "a la carte."

A book that will create a profound sensation throughout the United States.—Chicago Times.

It meticulously searches the money changers in the temple of the Republic—New York Recorder. This book tells its readers more about gold, silver and currency generally than any other publication we know of, and in a way that every man can fully comprehend.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

To those sending us one dollar, we will send the REPUBLICAN for one year with a copy of "Coins Financial School." This is the most celebrated book now before the people. It tells more about coinage than any volume that was ever written.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me, again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; were to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty-cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by all druggists."

Alf Truitt in his change of Advertisement this week takes a bright view of the farmers future. He believes the acreage has been greatly reduced and that cotton this fall will go up to 7 1/2 or higher. He desires to impress upon farmers that ground is best used during cultivation, and maintain that, as they have used so little in planting, they are in their own light if they fail to use it later on.

VOLUME 53

COUNTY NEWS.

GATHERED BY THE REPUBLICAN'S ABLE CORPS OF CORRESPONDENTS.

PIEDMONT.

The Piedmont Sunday schools will picnic at Sulphur Springs in the near future.

Rev. Bradford has prevailed upon Sam Jones to give a promise of visiting us some time this summer. We are preparing to quit our meanness, right now.

Mrs. M. E. Graham, of Talladega, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Stewart.

Sam Brewster, of Tallapoosa, was over to see relatives and friends last week.

Prof. J. P. Stevenson attended the Christian Endeavor Association at Birmingham.

Mrs. Stephenson is in Tennessee, visiting a sick sister.

Col. Robt. Mc Kee, of Birmingham, is visiting Mrs. McKee, on Laidley St.

Mr. Charlie Pitner, a well known commercial "angel", has been in Piedmont this week.

Dr. Tom Morgan, of Noah, Cherokee Co., came over on Saturday, after Mrs. Morgan and the boy.

Little Nellie, aged seven, the only daughter of Mr. J. P. Woolf, died on Sunday, from a short attack of pneumonia, brought on by the sudden cold snap. She had only been sick a few days.

On last Thursday night the young ladies of the Epworth League gave a calico soiree at Mr. Waring's.

On Friday night there was a brilliant musicale, at Mr. Ferguson's, by Mrs. Woodruff and class.

On Saturday night the Misses Moody entertained a select few.

Rev. G. D. Harris preached, a splendid sermon at the Baptist church on Sunday.

Miss Floy Montgomery, of Jacksonville, paid a flying visit to friends here last week.

Mrs. Waring, and daughter, left for Philadelphia on Tuesday. Mrs. Waring will return in a month, but Miss Lydia expects to stay with relatives until fall. She will be greatly missed, as she is a young lady of sweet and gentle disposition, who is greatly beloved by all.

Mr. J. M. Yeatman and family returned to Selma on Tuesday.

Mrs. Buras, of Nashville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Witherspoon, at the Seminary.

Mr. S. S. Potterfield and family, of Alexandria, came up on Tuesday to visit relatives.

The Kings Daughters have found that they have an elephant on their hands, but are not discouraged and are using every effort to make their paper a success.

OXFORD.

Rev. Jno. B. Andrews has been holding a meeting at the Methodist church for the past ten days. The people of Oxford are stirred religiously as they have not been stirred in years. The merchants close their doors at the hour for service and all go to church. There were more than forty penitents in the altar for prayer last night. Bro. Andrews leaves for his home in New Market, Ala., today.

Mr. L. B. Miller has recently purchased the Whiteside property in Oxford and will make that his home in the future.

We are glad to know that Carrie Draper, the only daughter of Jas. R. Draper, is rapidly convalescing. Little Carrie was taken sick, with scarlet fever, while on a visit in Anniston.

The Calhoun Rifles have fitted up a nice reading room. They receive some forty publications, and the boys are making it a source of profit and information. To the company, Capt. Orr, of the Calhoun Rifles has recently been elected major of the 2nd Reg't., and Lieut. H. C. Gunnels will likely be Captain Orr's successor.

WEAVERS.

The cold wave struck Calhoun Saturday evening, and for four days we have had a cold, blighting wind. The thermometer was down to 30 last Sunday morning, and to 42 Monday, at which time frost could be seen on the foot bridges and like surfaces.

Cotton, potatoe slips and other vegetables are showing the bad effects of the cold.

Cotton chopping is the order of the day, and farmers will have a lively time getting rid of all the grass that came up during the recent wet weather.

Wheat and oats look well.

New Irish potatoes were on our table to-day.

J. H. Douglas, of Galveston, Texas, is here on a visit to his father.

Prof. Alexander has moved along nicely with his school, and our neighborhood is fortunate in having so faithful a teacher.

The health of this community is good, for during Dr. Jones' week's visit to his parents, we have not needed a physician.

Some talk of moving the Methodist parsonage from this place to Alexandria, but we hope it will not be moved.

Preaching at the Baptist church next 4th Sunday and Saturday before by brother Trotter.

MERRELLTON.

The cold wave that was booked for May came on the 11th. There were light frosts 12th and 13th.

We have had plenty of rain but no "cloud bursts" as in some parts of the county.

Gen. Fields will take possession of the fields if the farmers don't work early and late all the time.

Cotton looks a little faint from the cool weather.

Miss Mollie Murphy returned to her home at Iron City, the 14th. Hope she enjoyed her visit, and will come again soon.

J. W. Murphy, of Iron City, visited S. E. Dowdell and family, the 13th.

The strawberry crop is beginning to wane.

People who read newspapers from different parts of the state are remarking the difference in the two papers published at Jacksonville from others. They are clean and free from using vile epithets. They are full of very interesting reading matter and all the news from different parts of the county, and best of all, good Christian gentlemen for their Editors. Much success to both.

MORRISVILLE.

Last Saturday was memorial day at Cape Creek church, and work on the premises began early, and by 12 o'clock the cemetery was nicely cleaned off. The graves were all renewed and the ladies decorated them with flowers. It was a beautiful sight to see them in that condition. The work all being done, the dinner prepared for the occasion by the good sisters in the neighborhood, who never do things by halves, was spread, and I know that I do not exaggerate in saying that the brethren did the dinner full justice.

Rev. W. S. Griffin filled his regular appointment at Cape Creek church last Sunday. There were two additions to the church by letter.

We are having cool weather, which makes vegetation look bad, and especially so with cotton. One man says his cotton is smaller than it was two weeks ago.

Arrangements are being made to establish two telegraph offices at this place as soon as the necessary instruments can be obtained.

The announcement from Fergusonville that J. A. Ferguson had quit peddling sewing machines and gone to farming, was very pleasant to his many friends in this locality. It is the opinion of the civilized people in this country that sewing machine peddlers, lightning rod agents and steer drivers, are a bad lot of citizens.

Mr. Walter Jones, the famous representative of the "Famous" was in Jacksonville on Wednesday. Mr. John Jolts has been unwell for three or four days past.

ALEXANDRIA.

Dr. Newman, the presiding elder of this district, preached two very interesting sermons at the Methodist church Sunday morning and night.

Rev. and Mrs. Webster, of Duke, attended the regular quarterly meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Austin Mathis has returned from a visit to her parents in Birmingham.

W. H. Cooper, of Oxford, was here Monday.

Miss Sallie Hoke, of Jacksonville, was here one day this week.

The strawberry and ice cream festival at the Grange Hall, Thursday night, was a very pleasant affair.

The pupils of the Alexandria Academy will have their Spring picnic Friday.

WHITE PLAINS.

The Sunday School convention last Saturday and Sunday, was well attended. Those who have been attending these conventions in the past, pronounced this the best they have ever had.

We had with us from Anniston, Judge Carthel, and Mr. P. G. Smith, from Oxanna. Mr. S. A. Russell, and Mr. Galbrith, from Oxford; Rev. R. T. Liston, and Mr. S. G. Armentrout, from Choctaw; S. N. Milligan, and Dr. and Mrs. J. P. M. Davis. We had a feast of good things. You missed much by not being with us.

A number of visitors have been with our people the last few days. Mr. Carter Roover, one of the oldest and best citizens of Calhoun county, died here last week. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. T. Liston, of Oxford.

Our new postmaster is in charge of the office now, and is very costily cornered in the Drug store.

All Opposed to Removal.

There are ten Calhoun county men stopping this week at the boarding house of Mrs. Crawford.

They are from different portions of the county, two being from the city of Anniston. A gentleman living near Anniston had them to take a vote on the removal of the court house a few days since, and they voted unanimously against removal. Our informants state that the two Anniston gentlemen stated that at least two hundred Annistonians would vote against removal.

A New Paper.

Mr. A. P. Longshore, of Columbia, is in the city and says he will shortly begin the publication of a Populist weekly paper here.

The law firm of Longshore & Beavers, of Columbia, will also establish an office here. Mr. Longshore will only spend a portion of his time here for awhile, but his partner, Mr. J. R. Beavers, who, by the way, is a democrat, will be here regularly. Not Blast.

Miss Ethel Pearce is home on a short vacation.

Miss Phoebe Davis returned last week from a pleasant visit to relatives in Ga., accompanied by Mrs. Wright, from near Rome, Mrs. Davis, of Rock Run, and Mrs. William, of Cave Springs.

Mrs. Rachel Treadwell continues quite ill. She is one of our oldest citizens.

BRUNER.

On account of the heavy rains, there was only one-half a day's plowing done here last week.

The cool nights of this week have caused cotton to look quite sick.

There was a grave yard working at the old Green grave yard last Saturday. All persons who attended carried dinner, and we spent a very pleasant day. I am glad to notice that this plan of annually looking after the graves of departed loved ones is yearly growing in public favor, and has been adopted in many sections.

BERA.

Farineros are looking a little sad, and five cent cotton very sick since the hail and cool nights.

C. M. Crow's little boy was bitten a few days since by a little snake, but is getting along all right.

There will be a singing at New Bethel on the first Sunday evening in next month, to be conducted by Prof. Henry Stovall, of Francis. The King of Egypt and his subjects are invited to attend.

The little boy of Lon Curry has been quite sick for several days, but is now convalescing.

The select log rolling party at H. P. Costly's last week was a complete failure.

O. L. Haynie visited W. H. Haynie at Cape Creek last Saturday.

Esquire E. J. Haynie spent Sunday with C. M. Crow. We presume that strawberries are somewhat scarce in that neighborhood this week.

GRAYTON.

We are having some pretty weather and the farmers are driving their plows at full speed.

Miss Alta Calhoun is very sick at her home, Dr. Sanders attending.

A young man in this community had a little incident last Sunday night which embarrassed him very much. He was reading an article to a young lady, friend, and very carefully placed his hand on her shoulder. The mother of the young lady noticed his hand thus out of place, and created a sensation which the young man will not forget soon. Moral: Never become so much interested in reading to your best girl that you forget where you place your hands when the mother is in sight.

Bridge to be Built.

The commissioners court let contract last Tuesday to the Alabama Bridge Company to erect an iron bridge across Tallassabatchie at Hart's ferry where it empties into the Coosa.

The bridge, together with cheap, promises, will cost $2200. The commissioners have wisely decided to build no more cheap wooden bridges to be washed away by every heavy rain, but will hereafter attempt to make improvements which will be permanent or which will last for years.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it free. Call on the advertised druggists and get a Trial Bottle Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucken & Co., Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing. For sale by all the drug stores. For sale by W. A. Arbery.

Dr. J. P. Allgood, of Piedmont, was in to see us last Thursday and informed us that the ladies of Piedmont are working energetically to make a success of their edition of the Inquirer, which they will issue next Saturday.

Three hundred pupils at the Jacksonville Normal School is not an impossibility for next session. The plan to get them is to go to work during the summer. Let every citizen in this section of the state be thoroughly canvassed.

Mr. Solomon Savage, of Piedmont, was admitted to the practice of law here this week after passing a very creditable examination in open court. He is a worthy young gentleman and will doubtless succeed in his chosen profession.

Mr. Borders, of Choctaw, was in town on Thursday, driving that beautiful horse which he recently purchased in Tennessee. The animal is perfect so far as figure is concerned, and has a remarkably fine pedigree.

Quite a number of our Cleburne county friends who are attending court as witnesses in the Burton trial, have rented the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Brennan, and are stopping there.

Anniston has been more largely represented in Jacksonville this week than any other previous week during the session of the circuit court.

Some say the grand jury will have enough work to keep its members with us all the summer. Well, they are clever men, and we will be glad to have them with us.

Dr. J. C. LeGrand is a native of Calhoun county, and his friends, who have watched the many difficulties which he has overcome in reaching a high place in the ranks of his profession, greatly appreciate the honor which the members of his profession have recently conferred upon him.

Dr. LeGrand takes much interest in the leading medical organizations. He is a regular attendant upon the session of the Calhoun County Medical Society, Medical Association of the State of Alabama, Southern Surgical and Gynecological Association and the American Medical Association.

Miss Undine Lane now has her classes in vocal and instrumental music, hard at work, finishing up the year's course, and preparing for the closing exercises.

She has made a great success as a teacher, and the improvement in her pupils is very noticeable.

Dr. J. P. Allgood, of Piedmont, was in to see us last Thursday and informed us that the ladies of Piedmont are working energetically to make a success of their edition of the Inquirer, which they will issue next Saturday.

Three hundred pupils at the Jacksonville Normal School is not an impossibility for next session. The plan to get them is to go to work during the summer. Let every citizen in this section of the state be thoroughly canvassed.

Mr. Solomon Savage, of Piedmont, was admitted to the practice of law here this week after passing a very creditable examination in open court. He is a worthy young gentleman and will doubtless succeed in his chosen profession.

Mr. Borders, of Choctaw, was in town on Thursday, driving that beautiful horse which he recently purchased in Tennessee. The animal is perfect so far as figure is concerned, and has a remarkably fine pedigree.

Quite a number of our Cleburne county friends who are attending court as witnesses in the Burton trial, have rented the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Brennan, and are stopping there.

Anniston has been more largely represented in Jacksonville this week than any other previous week during the session of the circuit court.

Some say the grand jury will have enough work to keep its members with us all the summer. Well, they are clever men, and we will be glad to have them with us.

Dr. J. C. LeGrand is a native of Calhoun county, and his friends, who have watched the many difficulties which he has overcome in reaching a high place in the ranks of his profession, greatly appreciate the honor which the members of his profession have recently conferred upon him.

AYER'S PILLS

"For fifteen years, I was a great sufferer from indigestion in its worst form. I tried the skill of many doctors, but grew worse and worse; until I became so weak I could not walk fifty yards without having to sit down and rest. My stomach, liver, and heart became affected, and I thought I would surely die. I tried Ayer's Pills and they helped me right away. I continued their use and am now entirely well. I don't know of anything that will so quickly relieve and cure the terrible suffering of dyspepsia as Ayer's Pills."—JOHN C. PARHAM, Brodus, Warren, N. C.

MYSTERY OF THE GREAT RUBY.

By LUCIE ST. DEANE.

(Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.)
"I don't think they did, for it is in the turn, where it has been for weeks."
"Exactly. Then how could they get up to this window from the ground?"
"How many of them were there?" she asked in turn.

"We understand there were three."
"Well, couldn't one of them stand on the other's head and then let the third climb up on his head?" she demanded triumphantly, as though her answer solved the question.

Under the circumstances it was an ingenious reply, and my respect for her cleverness rose.
"I declare I did not think of that,
but how do you account for the fact that they left no signs behind them?"
"I'm not counting for anything. You pretend to be an officer of the law, and if you are as smart as you think you are, answer the question, please. My eyes play as good as they used to be,
but maybe I can see where you can't."

And, stopping forward, the "good gray head" leaned out of the window and peered through her spectacles at the stone wall and the ledge as if she expected to discover a written explanation of the whole mystery.

"Not only that, but I saw her chip a piece of mortar with her thumb nail from between the stones just below the ledge."

"Someone must have done that," she remarked, scrutinizing the mark with interest. "What do you think of it?"
"I think it was removed by your thumb—in fact, I saw it done—though,
of course, you did not know it."

"Is that true?" she asked as innocently
as a child. "Well, I must be more careful. They could have come in this window the way I said, couldn't they?"
"Probably they could, but I don't think they did."

"That isn't the way with burglars."
"Do you know much about such folks?"
"Madam, my business brings me in contact with them," I remarked, with all the impudence I could assume. "I think it is my duty to study their ways."

"That's the way you learned, eh?"
"Exactly, and in no other. I am convinced that neither one of these criminals attempted to enter this room by the means you mentioned."

It was quite clear that she meant to keep me from entering the right one, and I was determined that neither she nor any one else should do that.

I lowered the window and slowly walked across the room and out of the door leading to the hall. My head was bent as if in troubled thought.

"Wait," she interposed, hurrying to place herself in front of me. "It would be more polite if you would let me
lead."

"I must beg your pardon again, but I wish to relieve you of all the labor I can."

"The best way to do that is by leaving the house."
"I will be glad to do so when my work is completed."

"It was no fancy this time that I heard a soft footfall and saw the door opening to the room slightly ajar. Some one was on the other side, stealthily watching us and listening to our words. The

"Well, sir, what do you want?"
door itself was less than six feet distant and almost before me. I acted as if I saw it not, but nothing escaped me.

"Do you want to go on the roof," she asked, "and look down the chimney?"
"That would be hardly worth while,
but there is another argument on this door, and it is that which the burglars attempted to enter last night and which I must examine."

I compressed my lips and looked sternly at her.
"But I don't care if you are an essential of the law, you can't go in there."
"And why not, I pray?"
"It is private and neither my husband nor myself dare put foot inside of it."

"Nevertheless I shall do so, and you must not try to stop me."
I took two steps forward and grasped the handle of the door. I expected to find it locked in any way, but it was open and I stepped in vigorously inward. I stepped across the threshold and almost stumbled over Mrs. Darius C.
Howard, who calmly confronted me with the key question:

CHAPTER XVII
The room which I had entered was one of those broad, old-fashioned apartments such as may be found in almost any large dwelling built 40 or 50 years ago. It was a room of chairs and a long table, which stood between the two windows, and which, like the shades upon the windows, had not come of the times in the rear of the yard.

On this table were a number of vessels, mostly of glass, a rotter, several jars, and a small, antique clock and candlestick. The room was a study, which, at first pleasant, after a time became insupportable.

I know when I turned the knob of the door that some one was within. I did not believe it was Mr. Howard, for I had seen him leave the railway station several hours before. Therefore, when I almost collided with his wife, I was nerved for it. She was standing in the room, near the door which I pushed quickly inward, and confronted me with the question:

"Well, sir, what do you want?"
"Jove! was'the beauty? I had seen her before, and as I have said, was braced for the meeting, but when I looked at this superb creature, with mat-less black eyes, abundant hair, olive complexion, perfect features, small white teeth and fascinating form, I was almost overwhelmed."

I could well understand how almost any woman would have overcome by such a vision and would have been ons as if in the presence of death itself.
Surely she must have made many conquests by the very momentum of her marvelous beauty, which was sufficient to make a forgetful donor, anything but his mad infatuation for her.

I stood a minute, staring vacantly
with open mouth and wondering eyes,
and then I could no more keep back the words which came to my lips: "My Heavens, I never saw so wonderful
a woman!"

"Idiot, you have not answered my question!" she said in a freezing voice, which ought to have struck me to the heart, but I kept my face. Neither of us stirred, but in the bewitching moment I was conscious that Mrs. Bridges had closed the door behind me. I was alone in the presence of the beautiful fury, and duty whispered in my ear:

"Have a care of you are lost!"
By a supreme effort I pulled myself together. It was useless to quarrel before this being, for she had no mercy. If I shrunk or faltered, she would crush me.
Behind that regal form crouched the mystery of Nana Sahib's ruby, and though I knew that, and, besides, my merchandise, would avail me in a minute I was myself.

"Madam," I said, with a bow, "I am an officer of the law. You heard me tell Mrs. Bridges my errand."

"But it was a lie!" she broke in with a sweep of her right arm and a step-forward. "Leave this instant, or it will be the worse for you!"

This threat and the biting words served me still more strongly. I became calm, cool, self-possessed, on the instant.

"I will leave when I am through with the business which brought me here and not one second before. You and your husband and all the miscreants
from here to hell shall answer for my life and defend myself even against you!"

Strange words to utter to a woman, whose strength could not have surpassed that of a child. A strong man like me could not have looked at her with the calm of his own woman when they were spoken, but I was in for it, and meant to maintain a bold front to the end.

That my reply was unexpected was shown by her manner. She moved reversed three paces and then, once
I believed, when I saw the delicate fingers nervously working, that she meant to leap at my throat. She breathed short and fast, but did not change
her superb pose.

"Pray be seated," I added, with assumed courtesy, as I placed my hand on the back of the nearest chair and set it down beside her. "With your permission I will do the same. I wish a few words with you."

My chair was placed so close to the door that I inclined it to the rear it would have been against it. I got down with my hat in my lap and looked expectantly at her.

She did not stir a muscle, but remained like a statue, and it seemed to me
that these eyes would burn me through.

"I am a detective and have been watching you and your husband for some time."

"I know it," she blazed as erect and upright as ever.

"Then I might have saved my words.
I have learned some things, but there are a number of others about which I would like to question you. It is rather odd that you should expect at two o'clock, while your husband was at the Astor House. I hope there was no cumbersome trouble."

"I have been waiting for you to come, but you have not yet arrived."
"What are all those things?" I asked
fidgeting my head toward the long table
on which lay the articles I have referred
to."

"I do not choose to answer that question."

I was listening intently, for I knew
that the East Indian was still in the
hall outside and heard every word that
passed. I spoke in a clear, deliberate tone, for I was talking to him as much
as to her.

"It makes no difference. I can look at you at any other time. This room
seems to be a sort of workshop for you
or your husband, or both."

She made no answer to this, but folding those beautiful arms, with the tiny
points of one shoe showing, calmly confronted me.

"I have admitted that neither you
nor your husband was in New York on
the night that Nana Sahib's ruby disappeared, so that, no matter what takes
place, the ruby can be brought before
me, no matter where the thief you
employed should turn state's evidence
—if you understand that?"

"Before giving any explanation please
wait until I ask for it."
"It shall be as you say. Do you know anything about the robbery of the ruby?"
For the first time, since we had addressed each other her lips parted with
that dangerously fascinating smile.
"Yes," she knew all about it.

Highest of all in Leavening Power—Tested by Govt. Report

She treated this impudence with the smile it deserved.
"It sort of looked that way," at the Jersey City station you avoided each other, not sitting even in the same car, though you were friendly enough when you met on the highway and rode
to this place in a cab."

"However, all that is your own business and of no particular interest to me.
Some days ago your husband sold an ingenious jewel, which called Nana Sahib's ruby, to a man from New York.
Mr. Howard received the price he asked, but on the very night of the purchase the buyer was robbed of the stone, and I am seeking to find out the truth about it."

I watched that fascinating face closely while uttering these words. I expected her to show surprise when told of the theft of the ruby, for, if innocent,
how could she know anything of the crime which in a fact, as I learned for myself, it up her face. She demanded with the coolness of a judge:

"Why do you come to me?"
"Because I am sure you can give me
the information."

"I don't know what I might have expected from you. On what right did this robbery, if there was any, take place?"

"Last Tuesday, the 13th—excuse me,
you are going to say that you and your husband were not in New York that night, which is a fact, as I learned for myself. If the charge was made against either of you, therefore, you could prove an alibi. I presume you know the meaning of that word?"

She paid no attention to this slur, but only looking at me uttered the single word "Well," with the most splendid circumlocution conceivable at the end.

"You know that sometimes several persons are concerned in matters of this kind. It is safer to employ an agent than to trust that reason, Mr. Howard's room at the Windsor did the cleverest job of the year. Now, if you will tell how it was done, I will let you and your pretended husband
come now."

I don't know whether a man pretending to be a detective would do more audacious
and seemingly absurd thing than this.
We have all heard of the profane fan-ker who, when confronted by an unusual cause of provocation, simply held his peace, but in this case, I was not the themselves. It must have been something of the same with Mrs. Howard, for the nearly looked at me and remained
speechless.

My next move required explanation.
I set my eyes toward the door and in the nearest corner, which was only five or six feet from the door. I never removed my eyes from the woman while doing this. As I resumed my seat I drew my revolver and tested it loosely across my lap, while my position was the same. It must have been something of the same with Mrs. Howard, for the nearly looked at me and remained
speechless.

"Don't be alarmed," I said, looking in her face. "If you intend no harm,
you will realize that, but if you intend to attempt against me God help you."
"What do you mean?" she asked, with a slight recoil.

CHAPTER XVIII
"Since I entered this house and came up stairs," I said, with my gaze still fixed upon that marvelous countenance,
"your husband has returned. He is outside this door and hears the words that I am now saying. He is waiting for a chance to kill me. He was figuring from the sound of my voice my exact position in front of the door, so that he would be sure of hitting me if he fired through the panel; hence my change of pose. I am now waiting for him to first opening the door. That will give me as good a chance as he can have,
which is all I seek."

"But," I added, with a meaning which could not be mistaken, "if he uses the revolver in his attempt to fire a shot at me while you are within range, I swear by the Eternal I will shoot you dead as you stand there. You must have heard these words. Let him govern himself accordingly. Won't you sit down?"

For the first time since my repeated intrusions she seemed to become aware that the chair was near her. She glanced at it, hesitated an instant and then walked to the stove. She seemed to be examining the normal heat, and I expected nothing, but that beautiful face outwitted me. She did a thing which I did not see, and whose meaning did not come to me until afterward. She threw something among the embers of the stove and the ashes left by the stick
that were burning there before I entered the room. Then she came back to where she had been standing and sat down in the chair, three paces away and facing me.

I have spoken of a singular odor I noticed upon opening the door and which
at first was rather pleasant, but it became more marked as the heat of the room increased and was oppressive at last to the point of nausea. How I longed for the cool air of the porch,
breathing from the outside, but there was not a crevice through which it could reach me.

"What are all those things?" I asked
fidgeting my head toward the long table
on which lay the articles I have referred
to."

"I do not choose to answer that question."

I was listening intently, for I knew
that the East Indian was still in the
hall outside and heard every word that
tone, for I was talking to him as much
as to her.

"It makes no difference. I can look
at you at any other time. This room
seems to be a sort of workshop for you
or your husband, or both."

She made no answer to this, but fold-
ing those beautiful arms, with the tiny
points of one shoe showing, calmly con-
fronted me.

"I have admitted that neither you
nor your husband was in New York on
the night that Nana Sahib's ruby disappeared, so that, no matter what takes
place, the ruby can be brought before
me, no matter where the thief you
employed should turn state's evidence
—if you understand that?"

"Before giving any explanation please
wait until I ask for it."
"It shall be as you say. Do you know
anything about the robbery of the ruby?"
For the first time, since we had addressed each other her lips parted with
that dangerously fascinating smile.
"Yes," she knew all about it.

"Will you tell me?"
"It is your business to learn such things. Why do you come to me?"
"Because it is beyond my skill."

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil.
It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cud, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency, Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quick remedies which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Kitchener, Conway, Ark.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any preparation known to me."
H. A. Adams, M. D.,

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria,
and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

We have ploughed the entire producing field. We have unturned deep and wide. We have done everything within the bounds of possibility to lift still higher the famous excellence—already famous. We have had experience for a teacher. We have had the preference you have always shown for us stimulating to greater achievements. We have this one end and aim in view, to better the store, better the values, increase the variety and lower the prices; in short, offer more—ask less. As evidence, look at our SPRING SUITS. They are unbettable. They tell of their greater goodness at a glance.

...the great markets... to get 'silver quotations'... Let us imagine George Washington arising before you, on his Virginia plantation, and before going over to his friend Patrick Henry's to purchase a dozen yoke of cattle, riding to Philadelphia or New York to get quotations upon silver in order that he might know how much money he has, and how much he shall pay his neighbor. Yet in the days of these founders of American independence "the silver standard" was "in vogue." Either history has been very negligent in her chronicles, or our friend Frank P. O'Brien's grand parents, who at that time lived in "old Oirland" failed to acquire and hand down to their children, a true statement of the condition of American finance.

From the way Kentucky starts out Secretary Carlisle will have considerable manipulation to do before he can commit the Democracy of that state to the single gold standard.

At a railroad commissioners' convention at Owensboro last week, in which one third of the counties in the state were represented, the following resolution on finance was adopted:

We declare it to be an elementary principle of democracy's faith that both gold and silver coin shall constitute the primary money of the country; that both metals shall be received for mortgage without discriminating against either, and at the legal ratio existing prior to 1873; to one one and one half and the undivided coinage of both gold and silver at this legal ratio and that both metals be declared full legal tender in payment of all debts, public and private.

The Montgomery Advertiser, the great three tailed bawler of the Alabama press, claims the exclusive right to say anything good of Alabama.

A few days since the State said it was in a position to make a move of improvement, and immediately the bawler began its usual attack upon the State for saying it.

The Advertiser has a "standing job" of denying "each and every allegation" which the State makes, and we verily believe that if some bright morning the State should say that that paper was constantly making an ass of itself, the very next day the Advertiser would have the audacity to deny it.

The Anniston Hot Blast complains fearfully at the expense of the investigation of the election frauds by the recent grand jury.

While the Hot Blast has its attention turned to the expense of the courts of Calhoun county, will it make an investigation and give as a few verses on the expense of the Anniston City Court. By making the proper investigation we think it can show the people that the city court costs the county about fifteen thousand dollars annually.

The money power of this country and Europe is doing its best to revive prosperous times, in the vain hope that the free coinage of silver tidal wave that is sweeping all before it may be stayed. Every citizen of the United States hopes that it will untie the money pouches and let loose hoarded capital.

But no where are there promises, that the people in 1896 will submit to a continuation of the policy that allows the money power to control the fortunes and the happiness of sixty odd millions of American people.

While the other large counties in Alabama will be represented at the Cotton States Exposition, Calhoun cannot afford to lag and fail to make an exhibit. Let the committee appointed to raise funds for an exhibit go to work.

WE HAVEN LEFT A STONE UNTURNED.

We have ploughed the entire producing field. We have furrowed deep and wide. We have done everything within the bounds of possibility to lift still higher the famous excellence already famous. We have had experience for a teacher. We have had the preference you have always shown for us stimulating to greater achievements. We have this one end and aim in view, to better the store, better the values, increase the variety and lower the prices, in short, offer more, ask less. As evidence, look at our SPRING SUITS. They are unbettable. They tell of their greater goodness at a glance.

$6.50 TO $15.00.

Look at the Little Boys' and Big Boys' Suits, $1.25 to $7.50.

Look at the Furnishings, from one end to the other, Rich Values, Popular Prices. We don't know the meaning of the word trouble. No effort is too great. The harder you are to fit, and to suit, the harder we strive to fill your satisfaction to its fullest. Giving your money back is only rectifying the error. We do what is better, guard against its occurrence. Perfection is not a chance shot here. You will hit the bull's eye every time. Fire away.
